

(From the Westliche Post (Mr. Schurz's paper).)

Rutherford B. Hayes, in his letter of acceptance, has placed himself in the frankest, most decided and most unequivocal manner upon our platform. We recommend his excellent letter to the careful study of every liberal-minded man in the country. No unprejudiced man can now doubt for a moment that the good cause of reform has found its elect representative in the Republican Presidential candidate. He who ventures to speak as Rutherford B. Hayes has done, under the circumstances, is our man. All the more for the inflexible fulfillment of every promise and obligation is guaranteed by a Rutherford B. Hayes, who is every inch a spotless man of honor.

With pleasure we place ourselves under his banner, to lead which to victory we will spare no exertion, nor leave unused a single honorable or manly means from now till the day of election. Hurray for Rutherford B. Hayes.

THEODORE ROBERT, a watchmaker of New Castle, has invented a piece of ingenious mechanism. It consists of gold studs, in one of which is a miniature watch, which keeps excellent time. The combined weight of the two studs and the watch, which are all connected together is one ounce and a half. The face of the watch is about the size of a silver three-cent, and with its surroundings of gold looks much like a small compass. When the watch and studs are on a shirt front they are about two inches apart, and by turning the upper one (in the same manner that a stem-winding watch is wound), the time-piece is wound. In setting the hands the lower stud is revolved. The most remarkable thing about the time-piece is that it is not like ordinary watches, but has a pendulum resembling that of a clock. The pendulum will move correctly in whatever position the watch is placed—even when it is reversed and run at the top instead of the bottom.

MANY people have the idea that Custer was a rough, swaggering, swearing, drunken trooper. He was just the opposite. He was as dainty a being in ladies' society, and as entertaining a guest at a dinner table as one often sees. For years he has never drunk a drop, even the lightest wines. He used to be in the earlier years of the war, but to his wife's sweet influence he surrendered the habit, and became not only temperate himself, but the apostle of temperance. He never swore, nor would he allow an oath to be uttered in his presence. I have heard him rebuke his officers many a time for swearing, and for one of his soldiers to utter an oath in his hearing was the gravest sort of insubordination. Another anomaly was that he never used tobacco in any form.—Washington Letter.

THE Sioux are the perfection of Nature's wild men. They are red republicans, polytheists who worship every object in nature—objects being rare on their plains. They are polygamists, to whom nature contributes a wife everywhere; and Sioux infancy is spent listening to the delectable tales of war, till the child precociously weeps to take a scalp. The chiefs have little or no authority, and are overcome by the braves. There is no law or code of law among the Dakotas, and property is an institution of abhorrence with them. Untamable, factious, but formidable in war, treacherous and cowardly, but still in arms for the most part, they have survived every innovation—small-pox, railroads, Indian agents and rum. They all used to go afoot, and now they ride as well as Comanches. They had only bows and arrows, and now have Spencer rifles. They want the scalp of mankind.—Gath, in Graphic.

UTICA (N. Y.) Herald (Rep.): Mr. Hendricks was one of the few United States Senators who voted against the 14th and 15th Amendments to the Constitution on their final passage.

THE Youngstown (O.) Morning Star, the organ of the rag money men in the Mahoning iron region, where Allen ran so strongly last year, has put up the names of "Cooper and Booth," and printed a call for a Greenback County Convention.

A VIRGINIA Democratic paper thus speaks of the Republican nominee for President:

"Rutherford B. Hayes, the white nigger nominee for Grant's old boots and dog-kennels, was born in Ohio in 1822, and commanded a brigade during the nigger-freeing crusade of Abraham Lincoln."

As investigation led to the following striking result: Of every one thousand traders but seven acquired wealth. From such sad results farmers are comparatively exempt. Of one thousand one hundred and twelve bankrupts who took the benefit of the bankrupt law in Massachusetts only four were farmers; and of two thousand five hundred and fifty in New York only forty-six were farmers. Less than two per cent. of the bankrupts belonged to the agricultural population twenty-five years ago, though that population so largely exceeded that of all other vocations. How is it at this epoch of our country's history?

CLEVELAND Herald (Rep): The result suits us exactly. Of all the candidates for nomination Tilden is the most unpopular in Ohio. Of all the candidates his record is the most vulnerable. His history has been written and furnished to our hand by numerous leading Democratic journals, so that our labor of finding campaign literature has been materially lightened. As a beginning we give this neat testimonial from the Brooklyn Argus, whose Democracy is unimpeachable, and whose influence as a Democratic organ is unquestionable. The Argus says: "Samuel J. Tilden made an assault upon the rings of the State of New York to gain the reputation of a reformer. He now bargains with them for their support for President. He is known to be a fraud by the people of his own State, and is nominated, will be beaten by 10,000 majority in Kings County, and by 50,000 in the State."

THE Chicago Evening Journal says of the Democratic situation in Illinois: The supposition that all the Democrats would promptly swallow the St. Louis nominees is not likely to be verified. We hear of a good deal of dissatisfaction here and elsewhere. Among the most vehement bolters in this city is "Brick" Pomroy, who, in his paper, fiercely assails Tilden as the very prince of slippery demagogues.

VEGETINE.

What I Know About Vegetine.

SOUTH BOSTON, May 9, 1870.
H. R. STEVENS, Esq.: Dear Sir—I have had considerable experience with the VEGETINE. For dyspepsia, general debility and impure blood, the VEGETINE is superior to anything which I have ever used. I commenced taking VEGETINE about the middle of last winter, and after using a few bottles, it entirely cured me of dyspepsia, and my blood never was in so good condition as at the present time. It will afford me pleasure to give any further particulars relative to what I know about this good medicine to any one who will call or address me at my residence, 388 Athens street.

Very respectfully,
MONROE PARKER,
388 Athens street.

Dyspepsia.
SYMPTOMS.—Want of appetite, rising of food and wind from the stomach, acidity of the stomach, heartburn, dryness and whiteness of the tongue in the morning, sense of distension in the stomach and bowels, sometimes rumbling and pain; costiveness, which is occasionally interrupted by diarrhoea; paleness of the urine. The mouth is clammy, or has a sour or bitter taste. Other frequent symptoms are water-brash, palpitation of the heart, headache, and disorders of the senses, as seeing double, etc. There is general debility, languor and aversion to motion; defection of the spirits, disturbed sleep, and frightful dreams.

Gained Fifteen Pounds of Flesh.
SOUTH BOSTON, ME., Jan. 17, 1872.
H. R. STEVENS, Esq.: Dear Sir—I have had dyspepsia in its worst form for the last ten years, and have taken hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine without obtaining any relief. In September last I commenced taking the VEGETINE, since which time my health has steadily improved. My food digests well, and I have gained fifteen pounds of flesh. There are several others in this place taking the VEGETINE, all have obtained relief.

Yours, truly,
THOMAS E. MOORE,
Overseer of card room, Portsmouth Co.'s Mills.

All Diseases of the Blood.
If VEGETINE will relieve pain, cleanse, purify and cure such diseases, restoring the patient to perfect health after trying different physicians, many remedies, suffering for years, is it not conclusive proof, if you are a sufferer, you can be cured? Why is this medicine performing such great cures? It works in the blood, in the circulating fluid. It can truly be called the Great Blood Purifier. The great source of disease originates in the blood; and no medicine that does not act directly upon it, to purify and cleanse, has any just claim upon public attention.

GOOD EVIDENCE.
CINCINNATI, Nov. 26, 1872.
MR. H. R. STEVENS: Dear Sir—The two bottles of VEGETINE furnished me by your agent my wife has used with great benefit. For a long time she has been troubled with dizziness and costiveness; these troubles are now entirely removed by the use of VEGETINE. She was also troubled with dyspepsia and general debility, and has been greatly benefited.

THOMAS GILMORE,
229½ Walnut Street.

RELIABLE EVIDENCE.
MR. H. R. STEVENS: Dear Sir—I will most cheerfully yield my testimony to the great number you have already received in favor of your great and good medicine, VEGETINE, for I think enough can be said in its praise, for I was troubled over thirty years with that dreadful disease, Catarrh, and had such bad coughing spells that it would seem as though I could never breathe any more, and VEGETINE has cured me; and I do feel to thank God all the time that there is so good a medicine as VEGETINE, and I also think it one of the best medicines for coughs and weak sinking feelings at the stomach, and advise everybody to take the VEGETINE, for I can assure them it is one of the best medicines that ever was.

MRS. L. GORE,
Corner Magazine and Walnut streets, Cambridge, Mass.

APPRECIATION.
CHARLESTOWN, Mass., March 19, 1869.
H. R. STEVENS: This is to certify that I have used your "Blood Preparation" (VEGETINE) in my family for several years, and think that for Scrofula or Catarrh of the Humors or Rheumatic affections, it cannot be excelled; and as a blood purifier and spring medicine it is the best thing I ever used; and I have used almost everything. I can cheerfully recommend it to any one in need of such a medicine.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. A. A. DUNSMORE,
19 Russell street.

Manhood: How Lost, How Restored!

JUST published, a new edition of Dr. J. C. Rathburn's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHOEA or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriages, etc.; also, CONSUMPTION, EPILEPSY and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance, &c.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only six cents.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post-paid, on receipt of six cents or two post stamps.

Land for Sale.

I WISH to sell 90 acres of Land, lying on the Nine Mile creek, in Mason county, W. Va., 1½ miles from Beech Hill, on the Kanawha river, where there are two stores and post-office, and county road running from Beech Hill near the land, and no hills to get to the river, and ¼ of a mile from the Methodist Church and public School-house. There are 2 cabins on this land and about 15 acres cleared; plenty of small streams to furnish water; plenty of timber for fencing and building. The most of this land lies very well, and in a good neighborhood, and being so convenient to the river, post-office, stores, church and school, and good road to the Kanawha river, gives it more advantage than any back land in this part of the country.

Price, 1,000 Dollars. Terms of sale.—One-third down and balance in 1 and 2 years.

Any person wishing to see this land, can call on the undersigned, at Buffalo, Putnam county, W. Va., or JAS. H. MILLER, who lives near Beech Hill.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is widely known as one of the most effective remedies ever discovered for cleansing the system and purifying the blood. It has stood the test of years, with constantly growing reputation, based on its intrinsic virtues, and sustained by its remarkable cures. So mild as to be safe and beneficial to children, and yet so searching as to effectually purge out the great corruptors of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contamination. Impurities, or diseases that have lurked in the system for years, soon yield to this powerful antidote, and disappear. Hence its wonderful cures, many of which are publicly known, of Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Ulcers, Eruptions, and eruptive diseases of the skin, Tumors, Blisters, Boils, Pimples, Pustules, Sores, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, and internal Ulcerations of the Uterus, Stomach, and Liver. It also cures other complaints, to which it would not seem especially adapted, such as Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Fits, Neuralgia, Heart Disease, Female Weakness, Debility, and Leucorrhoea, when they are manifestations of the scrofulous poisons.

It is an excellent restorer of health and strength in the Spring. By renewing the appetite and vigor of the digestive organs, it dissipates the depression and listless languor of the season. Even where no disorder appears,
